

Call For Artists: Talking Art 2020
November 2-9, 2020

SUBMISSION DEADLINE: Friday, September 18, 2020

Talking Art is a curated series of artist talks and conversations held in advance of the Eastside Culture Crawl festival. This year's Talking Art program will take place virtually, with each artist talk being presented online by the ECCS and hosted by a moderator.

This program will further provide an opportunity for artists to expose their work and ideas to the public and for the public to get a more intimate opportunity to see work in a variety of media by artists in their communities.

We are seeking submissions for artist talks that could illustrate an interesting project you are developing such as a public art proposal, a new series, collaborations, and/or projects outside your studio.

REQUIREMENTS:

- You must be registered for the 2020 Culture Crawl
- You must be able to present your artist talk online via Zoom

ECCS will:

- Provide an honorarium for selected artist talks
- Present selected artist talks online via Zoom and provide a host/moderator
- Promote artist talks through our online & print-based materials and social media channels
